product Ile
standout The Swiss designer dreamed up this artisanal drawer pull in a lustrous copper finish, the underlying structure made of Zamac, a high-purity zinc alloy. klodea.com

product Lunar
standout Demonstrating his taste for simple elegance, the designer envisioned minimalist, timeworn slabs—an ultra-durable aggregate of glass, porcelain, and quartz—for his Dekton Industrial collection. dekton.com

product Super Sonic
standout Undulating tiles in bright-white encaustic cement can be installed myriad ways, creating oval, wave, and zigzag patterns. Through Town & Country Surfaces. tncsurfaces.com

product Geo
standout The hardware maven's latest is a bent swoop of solid brass whose curvaceous form (available nickel plated or powder coated) channels Miami modernism and can mount to cabinets in numerous ways. neststudiocollection.com

product Hexagon
standout Six-sided wall panels are surfaced in handpicked reindeer moss, a maintenance-free natural material imbued with sound-absorbing qualities. Through Scandinavian Spaces. scandinavianspaces.com

product Aurty
standout From the San Francisco-based interior designer's new collection, dubbed Muslek, this tile captures the spirit of art deco in fine Italian marble with an exquisite hand-leathered finish. tinetriggs.com

product Strands
standout Laminated or tempered safety glass panels from Genesler's Linework collection are offered in various tints and patterns, such as this crosshatch design, that can be customized to boost privacy. skydesign.com
